Bring the sunlight 30 floors down

Sunlight is important for humans. We feel better, learn better and faster, achieve better and become more productive - we succeed better. Many people spend an essential part of their day indoors and do not experience the healthy natural light. Through innovative technology and design the Parans system follow the sun during the day, like a sunflower. Fibre optic cables transport the sunlight in and through the property and spread the light in all rooms. This way sunlight can be experienced deep into buildings and far away from windows. Everyone should have the right to sunlight - now everyone can have it! Fourth product generation Paranslight bring the sunlight 30 floors down. By letting people succeed better, you will let your business prosper - let your company have a “sunny” future. Bring the sunlight in!
